HAY STACKING BY MACHINERY.

Contrivances in the Northwest That Would Eurprise an Eastern Farmer. From the New York Sun.

In the northwestern states, where forage crops are cultivated for export, the stacking and baling of hay is done largely by machinery, and the number of hands required to care for the great crops that are grown is relatively much smaller than in parts of the country where the size of the fields and the amount of the crop would not justify the investment of a large sum of money in plant.

There are a dozen or more styles of stackers in common use, some of them arranged with a mast on which a boom is rigged, carrying a fork. This fork, a huge affair which would pick up two or three eastern haycocks at one motion, takes the hay from the wagon racks, and swings it up to the great stack in which it is to be

One mast and boom stacker carries a six-tined fork. The mast is held in place by guy ropes from the top. The foot of the mast rests on a sled with runners, which may be staked to the ground to hold it firm. The fork is worked by a team of horses, and does the work of a score of Another form of this stacker has a grapple fork, similar to the dredges used in sub marine excavation, which runs on a trol-ley wire, much like those made familiar to New Yorkers by the arrangements for handling the material excavated from the subway. Another form of stacker looks like a der-rick from the oil fields, with a boom balanced on top. The advantage of this form is that no guy ropes are necessary, stakes at the base of the derrick poles holding it firm while in operation.

Some of these derricks are mounted on sled runners, and some on wheels which are blocked when the machine is in use. Another variation of this scheme is a derrick with a revolving pole. anced on top. The advantage of this form

In the new constitution adopted by the Grand Lodge, F. A. A. M., and soon to go into effect, the duties of the grand master are somewhat differently described than heretofore. The fixed dates of the meetings of the Grand Lodge have been changed, so that there are now to be four stated communications of that body at Masonic Temple each year. The first will be held the second Saturday in March, for the exemplification of the degrees under the direction of the grand master, no other business to be transacted. The second shall be held the second Wednesday in May, and be de-voted to general business. The third communication is to be held on the fourth Sat urday in September, and be also for the transaction of general business. The an nual communication is fixed for St. John the Evangelst's day, each year, except when that event falls upon Sunday, in which case the communication will be held the day following. This session will be to receive the annual address of the grand master and for the election and installation of officers, and no other business is to be transacted. These new regulations will make the May and September communications now wholly legislative and those of March and December for the carrying out of other formal Grand Lodge duties.

The annual report of the committee on foreign correspondence of the Grand Chapter, R. A. M., of this District appears in the proceedings of the body, just publish; It was compiled by Grand Secretary A W. Johnston, and includes reviews of fifty four Grand Chapter reports. The commit-tee says that Royal Arch Masonry is enjoying unexampled prosperity.

In commenting on the last convention of the Grand Chapter of Canada the report says: "The annual report of the grand presiding officer spoke of the continued prosperity of the Canadian Grand Chapter and then gave a beautiful paragraph of homage to his most gracious majesty, King Edward VII, in paying which a colonis can double discount an inhabitant of the mother country every time. The most loyal Englishman in the world is a Scotchman, with the colonist a close second, and the real Britisher a far-away third." The grand high priest of Kansas quotes a statement of Past Grand High Priest Barnum of this District, in which the latter said: 'I have known men who were wretched ritualists, but splendid men of affairs, and who have presided over lodges and commanderies with signal ability and with great advantage to the bodies which had chosen them as leaders." The Kansas grand high priest says in commenting: "We disagree most emphatically with this last conclusion. In our experience, these 'men of affairs' who do not take sufficient interest in Masonry to be able intelli gently to confer a degree are dismal failures at the head of any subordinate body. Mr. Johnson now retorts: "If ritualism is all there is of Masonry, or the great desideratum, a graphophone would proba-bly be more perfect than almost any man. Has not the companion known high priests who were 'letter perfect' in the work could scarcely state a motion, and whose management of the chapter's business affairs was wretched? A good ritualist who is also a good presiding officer and a good business man is indeed a jewel. The reports of the Maryland and Louisiana Grand Chapters speak of visits to those bodies in session at Baltimore and New Orleans by Past Grand High Priest Harrison Dingman of this jurisdiction. Grand Secretary Johnston speaks feeling of the death of the distinguished Josiah H. Drummond of Maine, who passed away last October, saying: "The report on correspondence is Companion Josiah H. Drummond's thirty-sixth and last. 'As he was walking from his house to his office, his great heart, which had held a large place for so wide and so varied interests, and for a multitude of devoted friends, suddenly ceased to beat and he fell dead.' The Masonic record of Mr. Drummond was re-markable. He was grand master from 1860 to 1863; grand high priest from 1866 to 1868; most illustrious grand master in 1868; grand commander in 1878 and 1879; general grand high priest from 1871 to 1874, and 1880 to 1883. In the Scottish Rite he ceived the thirty-third degree May 21, 1862, was crowned an active member of the Supreme Council, N. M. D., May 23, 1862, and was sovereign grand commander from 1867 to 1879. He was also at his death head of the Royal Order of Scotland."

The Alexandria Lodge of Elks is arrang ing to give an excursion to River View late this month. Members of Washington Lodge will participate actively in the excursion and do all they can to help make it successful. Washington Lodge is getting its arrangements for attendance the Grand Lodge at Baltimore July 22 fully completed. The lodge will go in uniform and be escorted in the Baltimore parade by one of the best-known local bands. The lodge's Baltimore excursion committee is composed of John C. Maxwell, George A. Garner, M. G. McCormick, L. B. Brooke, James M. Dunn, Jesse S. Jackson and George A. Mason.

Leo A. Caro of Grand Rapids, Mich., a noted member of many fraternities and for several terms controller of that city, assisted by thirty-two members of Peninsular Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, cele brated his ninety-second birthday this week. Mr. Caro has the reputation for doing unexpected things in a pleasant way, and there are doubtless many of his Washand there are doubtless many of his Washington friends who will be surprised to learn that he has celebrated his ninety-second birthday. One day last week he consulted a fortune teller, who informed him that his health would be good up to his ninety-second birthday, but that on that particular day he might expect to be seen a member of the rank. He is an employe of the Baltimore Life Insurance Company and is attached to the Washington office. particular day he might expect to be se riously sick and confined to his bed. Acting on this advice Mr. Caro took time by the forelock and celebrated the ninety-second anniversary of his birth while his health is good. Curios and relics of all kinds picked up by Mr. Caro in his quite extensive travels were exhibited and the evening closed with light refreshments. The host is a member of the Grand Lodge, F. A. A. M.; past grand chancellor, K. P.; past imperial prince, D. O. K. K., and held many other prominent fraternal positions.

Grand Prelate D. H. Linebaugh of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Indian territory, was in the city recently and was a caller at Grand Lodge headquarters in the Warder building. Mr. Linebaugh is also the present chancellor-commander of Pushtamaha Lodge, K. of P., and the present worshipful master of Oklahoma Lodge, No. 4, F. A. M. Both these bodies are ocated at Atoka, Indian territory, where Mr. Linebaugh resides. He is engaged in he practice of law with his brother. He is also a member of the Scottish Rite bodies of the 32d degree. Mr. Linebaugh is but twenty-three years old and one of the youngest men that has attained these fraternal honors.

Grand Master George H. Walker of the Grand Lodge, F. A. A. M., has accepted an invitation to lay the corner stone of the new Foundry M. E. Church, corner of 16th and Madison streets, on Saturday, June 27, at 4 o'clock p.m., and has extended an invitation to Columbia Commandery, Knights Templar, to act as escort for the Grand Lodge on that occasion. The liveliest interest is being taken in the prize exemplification of degrees which is to be a leading feature of the September ssion of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows in Baltimore, where American Odd Fellowship was born. The Washington degree teams, of which there are several good ones, will be represented in the prize contests and have strong hopes of success Reports from the sovereign grand secretary at Baltimore are to the effect that communications are being constantly received from lodges located in various parts of the country asking for information relative to the competition, which will include, from the present outlook, a large number of degree teams. The competition will be one of the most attractive features of the meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, and will be held at Odd Fellows' Temple. At past meetings of the Sovereign Grand Lodge the competitions have proved to be of great interest, as the prizes are valuable and many in number. Prizes are awarded for the best lodge team, the best encampment team, the best Rebekah Lodge team and the best Patriarch Militants team. highest prize is $500, and the others range downward by easy gradation. Canton Washington, No. 1, Patriarchs Militant, one of the crack cantons of chevaliers, will be a leading candidate for the capital prize

District Grand Lodge, F. A. A. M., and other grand officers of this jurisdiction attended the laying of the corner stone of the new United States custom house at Baltimore. They went as guests of Grand Master Thomas J. Shryock, and of the Grand Lodge of Maryland. The ceremonies proper and a banquet at the Hotel Rennert Many prominent Washington government officials, Masonic dignituries and officers of the state and city participated. The prelude to the corner stone laying was a parade of the members of the Maryland Grand Lodge, led by the 4th Regiment grand Lodge, led by the 4th Regiment vecently and headquarters Linebaugh is commander of and the presahoma Lodge, led by the 4th Regiment Band. In the rear of the Grand Lodge rode Thomas J. Shryock, grand master of the order, with John P. Daylies, grand sword bearer. When the head of the column had reached the entrance to the new custom house the order was given to open order and inward face. Through this double line, with the grand officers, Grand Master Shryock marched to the platform erected for the exercises. While this was going on the exercises. While this was going on a delegation of treasury officials from Washington drove to the west entrance of the new custom house, where they were admitted to the inclosure and escorted to a space on the stand which was enciclled. space on the stand which was specially re-served for invited guests. The box deposited in the corner stone is of copper bearing a silver plate four by six inches inscribed: "This corner stone of the United States Custom House was laid June 13, in the year of our Lord 1903, Brother Theo-"This corner stone of the United dore Roosevelt being President of the United States, by the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge A. F. and A. M. of Maryland, Grand Lodge A. F. and A. M. of Maryland, Thomas J. Shryock, Most Worshipful Grand Master." The contents placed in this box were as follows: Annual report of the Grand Lodge of Maryland for 1902; coins of the United States for the year 1903; centennial medals of the Grand Lodge of Maryland; a copy of the Baltimore Sun; centennial medals of the Grand Chapter of Maryland; centennial medals of the General Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of the United States; centennial medal Maryland Commandery, No. 1; centennial medal of Concordia Lodge, No. 13; medal of the Celtic Masonic Association Pilgrim to Jerusalem 1902; badge of Maryland Commandery, No. 1. Inscribed on this box was the following paragraph: "This box and its contents are the property of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Maryland, and is to be returned to them on the demolition of this building."

Columbia Commandery, No. 2, K. T., had a regular conclave last night for the pur-pose of conferring the red cross, and will have a special Monday night for the orders of the Temple and Malta. The current cir-cular of Eminent Commander Harry F. Riley says: "A committee of five, consist-ing of the council officers, the recorder and Past Commander Klopfer, was appointed to prepare suitable resolutions to be presented to Mary Commander of Philadelphia. · From the report of the New Masonic Temple Association the net proceeds from the last Masonic fair amounted to $56,946.88. Twenty-six different bodies participated in that fair, and Columbia Commandery's share is $7,615.74, being more than oneeighth of the entire amount. This must be most gratifying to the members of Columbia Commandery, who should not forget the noble assistance afforded by our ladies that made it possible to roll up that hand-some sum to our credit. • • • Notwithstanding the inclement weather on evening of the testimonial excursion of the drill corps more than 800 persons took ad vantage of the trip down the river and had a most enjoyable time."

The banquet was in honor of Furniture City Company, No. 8, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias. This is the company that won the first prize against all contestants from all parts of the country in San Francisco. It was the largest and most successful affair of the kind ever undertaken by the local members of the order. Preceding the exercises the Uniform Rank drill team gave an exhibition drill. At the banquet Representative Smith was introduced by Brig. Gen. William H. Loomis of the Uniform Rank, and made what the local papers designate as a "splendid tribute to the principles of Pythianism, containing a number of humorous stories."

All the arrangements for the celebration of Arcanum day, Tuesday, June 23, have been completed, and much enthusiasm is being manifested in the Grand Council and various subordinate councils of the order in Washington. The celebration of the of the order will be at River View, under the direct supervision of the Grand Council. The excursion and day's outing will be complimentary to the members of the Royal Arcanum and their friends. One of the tween teams representing National and District council. It is anticipated that full 5,000 will attend the celebration, the mem bership of the order in Washington approximating 3,000. At the recent session of the Grand Council. Royal Arcanum, it was decided to establish a hospital bed fund and relief association. The object of this association is to provide beds and attendance in all of the Washington hospitals, where members of the order, whether affiliated with councils in this jurisdiction or temporarily sojourning here, will be cared for without expense in case of illness. Hospital bed fund associations are prominent features of Arcanum work in all the large cities. The following officers have been elected: President, W. H. Brigham; vice president, John L. Beattle; secretary, John F. Heffernan; treasurer, Moses Cohen. The trustees are Charles J. James, C. L. Crouse, William S. Riley, W. C. Miller, William McKenzle, W. S. Moore, J. C. Littlepage and M. A. Tolsen.

A Royal Arcanum building for Washington now seems probable. Building opera-tions will, however, not begin until a suffi-cient sum is in hand to carry the work well toward completion.

A reception was held at Naval Lodge Hall Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. M. E. Adams, worthy high priestess, and Mrs. L. K. Henderson, noble prophetess, of Washington Shrine, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, who have returned from the annual meeting of the Supreme Shrine held at Grand Rapids, Mich., June 10. This or-der, to which only members of the Eastern Star are eligible, instituted a Shrine in this city last October, which action caused controversy between its members and the offi-cers of the local Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star, the latter body forbidding its members to join in the White Shrine, under penalty of expulsion from the Eastern Star. The Supreme Shrine, at the meeting just held, sought to remedy the trouble by re-lieving persons in this jurisdiction from the necessity of joining the Eastern Star in order to acquire eligibility to membership in the Shrine, and now allows all persons who have the requisite qualifications for membership in the Eastern Star to join the White Shrine, without first receiving the degrees of the Eastern Star. The recep-tion was held for the purpose of expressing the success of their delegates in securing the relief sought. Nearly the entire mem-bership of the order in this jurisdiction attended. There were speeches, music, a pro-fusion of flowers and a bountiful repast. Thomas E. Jacobs and John R. ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE of Columbia has arranged to commemorate in a public meeting the close of the tenth year of its continuous work at Wesley Chapel Tuesday evening next. Its story will be told in brief talks by speakers who have been conspicuous in the making of its history, with the aim to engage the attention and enlist the sympathy of all who are interested in its work. The Anti-Saloon League movement had its rise during a series of meetings of the legislative committee of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars in 1891-92, at the residence of Mr. A. N. Canfield. The chairman, Mr. Canfield, and the secretary of the committee, Mr. S. W. Russell, collaborated in the issuance of a circular appealing to the members throughout the country, bespeaking their good offices at the polls, to the end that only the right kind of legislators be sent to the federal Congress. The secretary, as special messenger, distributed these circulars and called attention to their subject matter in a session of the International Supreme Lodge, sitting at Des Moines, Iowa, in June, 1892. In March of the year following Mr. Carifield sent a com-munication to The Star, which was pub-lished on the 31st of that month, and which read, in part, as follows:

TUESDAY EVENING.

Growth of the Movement Started Among the Local Good Templars in 1892.

"To make sure that the names on all applications for license to sell intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia are liquors in the District of Columbia are signed by the persons they purport to represent or by their authorized agents, the Independent Order of Good Templars of the District proposes to have its agent examine every application made under the act of March 3, 1883, and to call on every person whose name appears on them, and ascertain from the persons themselves that the signatures are genuine and authorized. It proposes also to keen a record of the munities from deception or imposition to publish this record from time to time." Call for Mass Meeting Issued.

The second circular was in the form of a call for a mass meeting, to be held in the Congregational Church on Sunday afternoon of June 4-a meeting of "all persons opposed to the liquor traffic and its destructive work to form a league." &c. The committee drafting the circular included the following: H. R. Stewart, chalrman; John R. Mahoney, F. M. Bradley, Thomas B. Marche, Azro K. Goff, Rev. Walter Brooks, J. W. Van Vleck, Rev. W. Credit, Mrs. S. D. La Fetra, Mrs. W. S. Rowley, Mrs. H. A. Gillenwater, Mrs. M. E. Cohen and Mrs. Margarett H. Platt

Mrs. H. A. Gillenwater, Mrs. M. E. Cohen and Mrs. Margaret H. Platt.

The mass meeting in the Congregational Church was held pursuant to call, and was addressed by the Rev. W. H. Boole. The service of song was led by Prof. Percy Foster, with Prof. Bischoff as organist. The organization of the league was effected at a meeting held in Fletcher Chapel. New York avenue and 4th street the 23d. New York avenue and 4th street, the 23d of the same month by the election of Mr. Samuel H. Walker, president; Mrs. H. A. Gillenwater, recording secretary; Prof. E. C. Palmer, corresponding secretary, and Mr. Thomas B. Marche, treasurer. With this organization effected the league entered upon a campaign of agitation, con-centration and education, and this campaign it has conducted vigorously to the

The League adopted the motto, "The Saloon Must Go," and the records of each succeeding year show marked advances over those of the preceding one. "No Compro-mise" became its official organ, of which publication Mr. J. R. Mahoney was chief promoter. Mr. Jesse C. Suter became the eague's representative at the excise board, and so continued for some time. Mr. Walker, under pressure of other business, reluctantly retired from the league after several months of service as president, and was succeeded by Rev. Luther B. Wilson, who was installed in office the first Mon day in January, 1894, and was re-elected in 1805. Mr. Marche retired from the office of treasurer in his first year of service, and was succeeded by Mr. J. S. Blackford, who has served continuously to the present time. Mrs. Gillenwater surrendered the portfolio of secretary, and Mr. Suter was elected to succeed her. The office of corresponding secretary was merged in that of the recorder, and that of financial secre-tary created, in which office Mr. Robert E. Harvey is now serving. Mr. Albert E. Shoe-maker, attorney, entered into the service of the league the 1st of November, 1894, and has been its legal adviser to the present time. Mr. James L. Ewin was installed in the office of president on the first Mon-day in January, 1896, and has received the unanimous vote for that office at each suc-ceeding election.

Men and women in the diversified religions and reform organizations in the District affiliated with the league. The local press took note of the new movement, and, beginning with Ohio, the league movement spread and has progressed until now there are active anti-saloon leagues in twenty-nine states. The demand for a national league was soon felt and realized by being molded into form in this District, the mother league taking prominence in the work. The national eague will hold its eighth annual convention here in December next, under the presidency of Dr. L. B. Wilson, with the Rev. E. C. Dinwiddie as its representative before represented on its advisory board, and divisions of labor made as seemed best calculated to keep the main question in healthy agitation, the best efforts concentrated and give the largest possible amount of education. 'The league's present executive committee stands: Mr. James L. Ewin, president; Mr. Owen P. Kellar, first vice president; Mrs. Clinton Smith, second vice president; Mr. Abram L. Swartwout, third vice president; Rev. Walter H. Brooks, chaplain; Mr. Andrew N. Canfield, secretary; Mr. Robert E. Harvey, financial sec-retary; Mr. John S. Blackford, treasurer; Mr. Daniel K. Sargent, doorkeeper: Mr. Albert E. Shoemaker, attorney; Mr. Andrew Wilson, Mr. S. W. Russell, Mr. Hermon C. Metcalf, Mr. Charles S. Smith, Mrs. Isabel Helmick, Mrs. Mary V. Noerr, Mrs. M. M. Mitchell, Mrs. Grace L. Chapin and Mrs. Mary D. Pickens. By a recent rearrangement the regular meetings of the executive committee occur on the evening of third Monday of each month and the first Wednesday. Chairmen of the standing committees are as follows: Mr. Andrew Wilson, legislation; Mr. Canfield, co-operation; Mr. Ewin, mass meetings; Mrs. M. M. Mitchell, literature; Mr. Shoemaker, pro-test and law enforcement; Mr. Russell, the patrician face, and replied:

"A gentleman, my dear, is one who has never done any work. It is a mark of vulgarity to work, and ne gentleman would think of it." The little girl sighed a sigh of relief. "Then papa is a gentleman?" she said,

And her mother replied:
"Surely, my dear. Does he not belong to
